

Module 4 - Where to look for work: Using websites

Module 4 introduces you to the range of websites available to look for work and explains how to use these effectively. This includes using websites to find jobs with local authorities and finding Modern Apprenticeships. It also covers using general recruitment websites.

Work your way through the Where to look for work - using websites Module, completing the activities throughout.

There are four activities to complete, which allow you to practice looking on different company and recruitment websites.
