Production (Technology and Management)

Royal Conservatoire of Scotland

Venues

Renfrew Street Campus

Content

Study a highly practical degree with a timetable that provides the space to learn and experiment alongside a production calendar reflective of industry practice, helping you build the skills and stamina to thrive in a challenging yet rewarding career.

This is the only conservatoire-based technical theatre degree in Scotland. Through the programme RCS aims to produce production technicians, stage managers and lighting designers who can turn their hands to any related role. This makes RCS students employable in a range of contexts, whilst also being specialists in their chosen career pathways.
