

Commercial Sound Production (3rd year entry)

University of the West of Scotland

Venues

Lanarkshire Campus

Content

Delivered at New College Lanarkshire, the programme combines business modules (project management, IT, communication/negotiation skills, structure of the music industry and creativity) and allows you to select modules in production and/or industry environment/sociology. Employability is a key aim of the programme.

Music is one of the UK's largest creative industries - and the UWS BA Commercial Sound Production course opens doors for those with talent, drive and ability to forge varied, lifelong careers in music promotion, tour management, sound engineering and production.

This professionally-accredited course teaches audio engineering and production in the fields of music, film, TV, radio and gaming.

Developed in response to industry requirements, the focus of the course is on a rapidly developing modern music business and its opportunities.

Lecturers are practising music industry professionals and guest speakers have included Shirley Manson and Ricky Ross. Designed for songwriters, producers and DJs, you will develop a variety of specialisms, giving our graduates a diverse range of skills to build a successful career in music.

Some classes may be delivered off campus, at our creative hub in Glasgow's Centre for Contemporary Arts and Paisley Campus.
