

Sport and Management

Abertay University

Content

Become a business-savvy professional, helping to manage the world of sport and physical activity.

You'll develop the management, social and vocational skills needed to work in this growth industry. Evaluating the contexts of sport and physical activity, you learn to challenge ideas and concepts using business and management principles.

Work placements are key, and employability is embedded throughout the course. Hands-on activities like these help you to apply theory to real-life situations, and you can work towards national governing body and industry qualifications. You're encouraged to be entrepreneurial, show initiative, and apply your expertise wherever possible.
