

Introduction to Animal Care

Scotland's Rural College (SRUC)

Venues

Aberdeen Campus

Content

This course is for anyone who has an interest in animal care and wishes to develop their knowledge and gain a national qualification. The course offers both a practical and theoretical learning environment which allows the student to use the knowledge that they have learned in our very own animal unit, which offers a wide range of species to handle and care for.

During the year students will cover various topics which consider animal behaviours, enrichment and terminology and to name but a few. The course also allows the learner to develop core skills such as numeracy and communication.

Example modules: Companion Animal Anatomical Landmarks; Basic First Aid for Small Animals; Environmental Enrichment; Feeding and Watering Small Animals: An Introduction; Accommodation and Handling of Small Animals: An Introduction.
