

Jewellery

UHI Outer Hebrides

Venues

Outer Hebrides Campus

Content

Through a number of practical projects, you will learn techniques in construction, casting and stone setting to bring your skills up to industry standard. You will also learn to merge practical skills with your creativity through a number of design projects. This will give you the chance to produce jewellery pieces which reflect quality craftsmanship and good design consideration.

The HNC is an excellent opportunity for anyone who has a small amount of experience and would like to broaden their skills. It is also an good option for anyone who has been making jewellery for a longer period of time and feels their skills are limited through a lack of specialist training.
