Content

The HND in Sports Coaching and Development is a two-year course providing the knowledge and skills necessary to work as a professional within the sector. The topics covered range from human anatomy, physiology and biomechanics to sports coaching, sports development and professional practice — including research skills.

Year 1 includes a stand-alone, industry-recognised Professional Development Award in Sports Coaching at SCQF level 7. Year 2 advances the PDA in Sports Coaching to SCQF level 8.

What you will learn:

You will learn methods and techniques to develop yourself as a practitioner in the sports industry which could ultimately lead to a range of employment opportunities. You'll be encouraged to take responsibility for your learning and develop transferable and employability skills such as; independent research, planning, evaluating, presenting and teamwork.
