Content

There is growing recognition that there is a significant gap between a threshold pass at National 4 level and the challenge and demands of the National 5 Maths course. This course is specifically designed to address that gap, and it is aimed at those candidates who already have a Maths qualification at National 4 level (or equivalent), but who are not yet ready to take on the specific demands of the National 5 Maths course.

The course will build upon and extend your existing knowledge of mathematics to prepare you for starting
