Content

If you want to get into a career that is challenging, has opportunities for development and makes a real difference to people's lives then social services could be perfect for you.

Social service workers can be office based but much of their day is usually spent working with people in the community, in a care home, the person's own home, a day centre, hospital or other settings. Most people come into contact with a social worker at some point in their lives, so you can understand how important good quality service can be.

Course includes:

Care in Contemporary Society; Leadership starts with me; Health Wellbeing and Safeguarding; Lifespan development theoretical approaches; Care Practice; Social Care: Graded Unit 1; In addition, 3 optional units.
