Content

Fine Art's position within the University of Dundee creates exciting opportunities for cross-disciplinary research and teaching. The diverse backgrounds and multicultural perspectives of our students enrich our programmes. Innovation and creativity are key to our success. They prepare our students for a wide variety of careers in creative practice and related areas.

Our students work in wide range of mediums. Some focus on a single discipline while others enjoy a multidisciplinary approach.

Fine Art mediums include: drawing; painting; sculpture; installation; printmaking performance; film; photography – both digital and analogue.

The course is primarily focused on making. Fine Art study, however, will also equip the student with knowledge of the history and theory essential to the contemporary practitioner. We also support students to develop their critical and contextual understanding of art.
