Content

This course provides you a good foundation in capturing and editing both still and moving images. You'll be taught by award winning photographers, working to high standards and deadlines to help prepare you for the real world.

Here's just some of what you'll be doing:

In photography, you'll start with the basics, including technical and creative aspects of using a camera, which could include the development of your skills in photographing both people and places, going on location for interior and exterior shots. You'll also learn the fundamentals of enhancing and manipulating digital images, developing skills in Lightroom and Photoshop.
