

COSCA Counselling Skills (Certificate)

Glasgow Caledonian University

Content

The COSA Certificate in Counselling Skills is ideal training for those who work in health, social care or related mental health fields and want to advance their communication and counselling skills within their primary role.

Successful completion of the four modules of the course give eligibility for the award of COSCA Certificate in Counselling Skills. COSCA (the professional body for counselling and psychotherapy in Scotland) is the regulatory body for counselling skills in Scotland.

Qualification

Other

Study Method

Part time (day)

Course Length

1 year

Faculty

School of Health and Life Sciences

Department

Psychology

Entry Requirements

This course is open to all – experience in the field of health and social care or a field involving close personal contact with members of the public is recommended; however, applicants will be selected on their emotional readiness to undertake such a programme.

SCQF Level

7

Address

Cowcaddens Road
Glasgow
Glasgow City
G4 0BA

Website

www.gcu.ac.uk