Ayrshire College

Venues

Ayr Campus
Nethermains Campus

Content

Plumbing is one of several trades, which supports the massive industry known as construction - the building of houses, commercial premises (like shops, hotels or offices) and industrial premises (like factories or warehouses). Other trades within construction include bricklaying, carpentry and joinery painting and decorating. Skilled tradespeople usually find themselves in high demand - from homeowners as well as industry - so if you invest in your abilities now, you could have a great future ahead!

You will learn:

measuring, cutting and fixing; basic joints in pipework, plastic, copper and mild steel; kitchen appliances and basic electrical work.
