Content

Do you want to learn about current thinking on sustainable development, climate change, economics and globalisation, and the role they all play when planning for present and future development needs? If your answer is yes, then this CPD Award Sustainable Development (SCQF level 7) is the course for you. With fellow students from across Scotland and beyond, you will discuss the climate emergency, the need to move to a wellbeing economy, and the solutions required to tackle the issues our communities and the wider world are facing.
