Content

Enter the dynamic world of music and sound and unlock your creative potential!

Discover how musicians craft their sound, from initial concepts to full productions, and delve into the techniques that bring musical ideas to life.

This course will give you experience in live performance, producing your own music, and exploring the language of music.

Get hands-on with state-of-the-art studio resources and master the essentials of operating a digital audio workstation (DAW). You will be able to work with a mentor, who will guide you through a personalised project in an area of musical interest that inspires you.
