Content

French is a major world language, spoken in many parts of Europe, Africa and the Americas. On this programme, you will study the French language in the context of the diverse countries, cultures and societies in which it is spoken.

Intensive language training, including a year abroad, gives you the opportunity to develop advanced speaking, writing, reading and translating skills in French.

We will introduce you to the extraordinary richness and variety of the Francophone world through the study of: literature and cinema; political history and social movements; and philosophical ideas.

Our courses cover material from the Middle Ages to the 21st century and include specialist options in key disciplines such as decolonial, gender, and film studies, all taught by leading experts.

Studying philosophy will:

allow you to think about some of the great philosophical questions in a clear, disciplined and systematic manner introduce you to the thinking of some of the great philosophers of the past and present illuminate the connections between diverse areas of human experience make you more aware of the assumptions that form the basis of your beliefs
