

Accounting (Graduate Apprenticeship)

Robert Gordon University

Content

The Graduate Apprenticeship in Accounting at Robert Gordon University will develop your knowledge and understanding across all areas of accounting and management relevant to practice and industry. It provides the necessary underpinning in core accounting knowledge, skills and competencies allowing you to critically analyse and determine potential solutions.

You will also develop an appreciation of future business relevant issues facing individuals and organisations worldwide. By incorporating completion of a professional accounting qualification in stage 5, this programme prepares you for life-long learning as part of your ongoing professional CPD. Completion of the degree would also allow access to relevant postgraduate study.
