Content

The GA in Business and Project Management has been developed in partnership with industry to ensure that the learning is aligned to business needs.

The course fully embraces the principles of Work-Based Learning. It is delivered over four years and apprentices undertake 120 credits per year (three trimesters per year). Work-Based Learning and Work-Based Assessment strongly underpin the course.

Apprentices are taught by the university's GA teaching team of subject-matter experts from the School of Business and Creative Industries and School of Computing, Engineering and Physical Sciences who deliver modules through personalised tuition, support, and feedback. The team of dedicated UWS Link Tutors are also on-hand to help apprentices to integrate their learning into their workplace and support the delivery of the work-based learning modules.
