Podcasting and Media (NextGen)

City of Glasgow College

Venues

City Campus

Content

This new Next Gen Award has been developed to address the current demand and growth of employment across audio content creation, particularly within podcasting. You will be producing and presenting in our new industry-standard robotic podcast visualisation suite, City Podcast and our digital radio station, City Radio. We have all the licenses required to allow the broadcast of your shows. Students are encouraged to join our Radio Network and create their own programmes outwith the curriculum.
