Content

The course is highly practical with a focus on employability and preparation for further study and/or gaining employment in the music industry.

Choosing to study with us will offer an enriching experience in both the academic and technical pursuits of music. From music theory and history to performance and composition, this course offers a diverse range of advanced units from which to study.

You will have the opportunity to receive one-on-one lessons on an instrument chosen from the following options: guitar, bass guitar, drums, saxophone, vocals and piano/keyboard from professionals who are still active within the music industry. Performance skills are also developed within weekly performance classes utilising our fully-equipped rehearsal studios and through frequent performance opportunities at venues across Glasgow and North Lanarkshire. You will also gain valuable ensemble experience by participating in groups and bands.

Content includes: First study: instrument; Live performance; Online promotion; Songwriting; Session skills; Music for the visual arts; Graded unit 2; Digital audio workstations 2.
