Interior Design

Robert Gordon University

Content

On the Interior Design course, you will explore inclusive design, materials, human behaviour, and visual culture, alongside design thinking, problem-solving, and spatial storytelling.

Projects will bridge physical and virtual worlds, drawing on a deepening knowledge base to inform practical work.

The course empowers you to reimagine meaningful and immersive narratives for interiors and places, challenging relationships between space, objects, and human experiences to shape innovative interior futures and new ways of inhabiting our world.
