Pathways to Care, Health and Society (Level 5)

UHI Inverness

Venues

Inverness Campus

Content

Pathway to Care, Health and Society is designed to give you an introduction to the areas of childcare, health and social care and humanities. In addition, it encourages critical thinking, provides a variety of real-world skills, and helps you explore career and personal development opportunities.

You will study introductory modules in areas such as counselling, psychology, social sciences, history, and care. Our pathways course gives you a range of options to progress your studies in Childcare, Health & Social Care, Psychology, Counselling and Social Sciences. Each of these areas plays a key role in encouraging personal development, building self-confidence and preparing you for challenges you may face in future.
