Content

The Next Generation HNC in Administration and Digital Business Technologies is a new, forward-thinking qualification designed to meet the demands of today's workplace. Shaped by technological change and evolving employer expectations, it provides a relevant and engaging alternative to traditional study routes.

Built around three core units, the course takes an integrated approach to learning, allowing knowledge and skills to be applied across realistic, work-based scenarios. This mirrors professional practice and helps learners build confidence through fewer, more meaningful assessments, rather than managing multiple disconnected tasks.
