

Public Health (Palliative Care Research)

University of Dundee

Venues

Ninewells Campus

Content

Palliative care is an important aspect of healthcare in communities across the globe. Throughout this course, you will focus on relevant research and public health issues relating to palliative care. You'll develop your knowledge of palliative care, including the principles of identifying patients who could benefit from this approach to healthcare, and how research informs the practice of managing common symptoms in palliative care patients.

In our Master of Public Health (Palliative Care Research) course you'll learn about the challenges facing palliative care research and how clinical research can be undertaken by using public health research principles within a palliative care context.

Start Date

September

Qualification

Postgraduate Master's

Study Method

Full time

Award Title

MPH

Course Length

12 months

Department

Medicine, Dentistry and Nursing

Entry Requirements

Applicants are normally required to hold a first class or upper second class degree in a health related topic and/or in subjects including medicine, the social sciences, and medical science. Applications will be considered from others who, although not graduates, are exceptionally well qualified in terms of seniority and experience. Experience in palliative care or similar area and/or specific, evidence and interest in palliative care.

SCQF Level

11

Address

Nethergate
Dundee
Dundee City
DD1 4HN

Website

www.dundee.ac.uk