

International Relations

Open University in Scotland

Content

By exploring current questions and issues of global importance, you'll develop an in-depth understanding of the development of the international system and interactions between states and other actors. You'll discover the sources of order and disorder within the international system and learn about the key issues in international relations, such as security, justice, conflict and co-operation. You'll also add to your knowledge of international relations by specialising in either Development, Environment, History or Politics.

This qualification will extend and deepen your ability to demonstrate critical thinking and evaluative skills, as well as transferable skills and attributes that are crucial to enhancing your career development, including time management, collaboration and independent working.

Start Date

October, February

Qualification

Degree

Study Method

Online learning

Award Title

BA Hons

Course Length

Flexible

Faculty

General

Department

Social Sciences

Entry Requirements

There are no formal qualifications required to study this degree. Computer and internet access required.

If you're new to study or to the OU, it is recommended that you start with a course at Level 1.

SCQF Level

10

SCQF Points

«SCQFPoints»

Progression Routes

International studies graduates are found in a wide range of professions in the private and public sectors, including international agencies and government bodies (national and European). If you choose a language option you'll have a grounding in another language that may add to your professional opportunities.

Combination Courses

«htmlCombinationCourse»

«htmlCombinationUCASCode»

Address

10 Drumsheugh Gardens
Edinburgh
EH3 7QJ

Website

www.open.ac.uk/scotland/