Accounting

South Lanarkshire College

Content

Part-qualified and newly qualified accountants are Scotland's most sought-after employees, according to recent research from Hays. The average salary for an accountant in Scotland is £37,500. This two year HND course offers a direct route to a degree programme taught on our campus in partnership with the University of the West of Scotland. This course gives you skills, theory and an insight into the industry, and sets you on the path to a career in accounting and finance.

You will gain the skills and knowledge required for working within an accounting environment or if progressing to the BAcc Accounting. You will learn about financial accounting and recording financial information.

You'll learn through work placement, group work, lectures, industry visits and guest speakers.
