Social Services

South Lanarkshire College

Content

This course is suitable for those wanting a career as a senior care worker within a social care setting or to go to university to qualify in social work or community education. From this course, you can move into more advanced study (a degree in social work) or a registrable qualification with the Scottish Social Services Council (SSSC) to allow work in the social services sector.

You will learn practical skills and theory for a career in social care. This will include a social care placement and you will also take three SVQ social services and healthcare units. You will learn knowledge and skills through groupwork, lectures, industry visits and guest speakers.
