University of St Andrews

Content

The MMath (Honours) in Statistics allows you to specialise in the branch of mathematics that focuses on collecting, analysing and presenting large quantities of numerical data. There are many practical applications for statistics, including fields such as science and medicine, government, business and education.

Students of statistics will acquire the analytical techniques, clear logical thinking and deductive reasoning necessary to explore some of these fascinating areas of research.

The MMath allows you to combine undergraduate and postgraduate study into a single five-year programme, graduating with a Masters degree.
