Content

Computer science forms the backbone of our interconnected world, driving innovation and progress at an unprecedented pace.

In this dynamic and ever-expanding field, this accredited BSc (Hons) Computer Science programme takes centre stage. It goes beyond traditional boundaries, emphasising the creation of robust and user-friendly systems, addressing the evolving challenges of our modern era.

With BSc Computer Science (Software Engineering) you will dive into the heart of computer science and explore software engineering, where you'll unravel the intricacies of constructing not just functional, but exceptional systems.

The curriculum is meticulously crafted to empower you in building the next generation of software tools and ground breaking technologies. These are not just theoretical concepts; they are the foundation of solutions that people will seamlessly integrate into their daily lives.
