What do I need to get in?

Entry is at the discretion of the school or college but you would normally have achieved:

- National 4 Religious, Moral and Philosophical Studies

What will I study?

Studying Religious, Moral and Philosophical Studies develops your imagination and your thinking skills.

Throughout this course you will focus on one of the world's six major religions (Buddhism, Christianity, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, Skilhism).

The course comprises three areas of study.

World Religion

You will study religion and its impact, relevance and significance through studying some key beliefs and practices found in one major world religion, and the contribution these make to the lives of followers.

Morality and Belief

You will study moral issues and their background, implications and responses through studying one major moral issue and responses to it.

Religious and Philosophical Questions

You will study the issues raised by religious and philosophical questions, their implications and responses by studying one question and responses to it.

How will I be assessed?

The course assessment has two components totalling 100 marks:

- Component 1: question paper – worth 80 marks
- Component 2: assignment – worth 20 marks.

For the assignment component, you will be asked to choose and research an issue or topic drawn from a religious, moral or philosophical context, and produce evidence on your findings. The assignment component will be set and externally marked by the Scottish Qualifications Authority (SQA).

The question paper will be set and externally marked by SQA.

The grade awarded is based on the total marks achieved across all course assessment components.

The course assessment is graded A-D.
